A postcard and so much more.

Everyone has heard of Cassis: the narrow streets, the “pointus” fishing boats anchored in the harbour, the Calanques, the vineyards stretching out over the hills, the clear blue sky, Cap Canaille that stands guard to the east of the village. Cassis is all of this and so much more....

Cassis is a fishing village that, over the years, has become a destination of choice for tourists from near and far. Cassis is a resort that makes a conscious effort to manage the influx of visitors to keep the number of tourists constant and preserve the quality of life. Cassis embodies an awareness of the need to protect this beautiful but fragile natural environment. Cassis is the first Nature Discovery Park, Cassis is a vineyard that is almost 90% organic, Cassis is a reflection on soft modes of transport and accessibility, Cassis is a fleet of electric and hybrid boats to preserve the pleasure of a trip out to sea. The idea here is not to impose restrictions, but to be vigilant and give ourselves the means to continue making the most of this easy-going way of life together, and to welcome visitors as you would your own family. Because tourism is important for Cassis, and the people of Cassis welcome travellers and epicureans from all over the world with the typical warmth of southerners, in every season.

WHAT'S NEW AND NOT TO BE MISSED

From the village centre to the hilltops of Cassis, a roundup of what's new and what to buy. And of course, there's the unmissable colourful gourmet market every Wednesday and Friday.

Something new at the Suites 23 guest house.

A stylish and comfortable garden chalet tops off this haven of peace and greenery on the heights of Cassis. The decorative flair of Magali, the owner, gives the place a distinctly Provençal feel: Terracotta floor tiles, glazed shower room, brass fittings, porcelain light switches, elegant household linen... Garden views, pool access, delicious organic breakfasts on the terrace overlooking Cap Canaille. 2025 will see the opening of a workshop-boutique dedicated to wellbeing. Green Key establishment. Find out more on page 15.

Irresistibly delicious sweet creations at the Nomade Pâtisserie.

Valentin Fabry, the pastry chef at the 5* Les Roches Blanches hotel, invites all visitors to come and discover some fabulous desserts in the village's beautiful shop. They are not too sweet, and bring out the best in delicate flavours and top-quality ingredients: Pavlova, all-chocolate Lima, not to mention the giant pastries, and some club sandwich and soup specialities if you prefer something savoury. The Nomade Pâtisserie feels more like a place to settle in!

The Clos des Arômes has been given a makeover.

A new team, a new decor and a new menu! An atmosphere filled with cosy touches, raw materials, antiques and ideas for ten or so rooms, each one different and bursting with charm, with a view of the garden or the heart of the village. The famous garden courtyard has been "revamped" in the spirit of a family home, where you can gather under the century-old plane trees on a warm summer's evening. When the cold weather sets in, the lounge with its fireplace takes centre stage, with its 50s-style French Riviera decor. And on the menu, only the freshest seasonal produce, with the flavours of the Mediterranean.

Tastes of childhood at Monsieur Praline.

Céline and Arnaud prepare their delicious products in an authentic copper cauldron using the finest walnuts, a little brown sugar, water and the occasional touch of spices. The result is a delicious sweet fragrance that fills the air around their workshop. You won't be able to resist their pralines and their fine selection of gourmet treats: spreads, biscuits and Calissons round off the delicious array of sweet treats. New recipes: pralines with Christmas spices, savoury truffle pralines...

Catch of the day at Café Sardine.

This is the place where fresh fish from Cassis and Marseille is cooked. Sardines from the Mediterranean, plancha style squid, braised fillet of sea bass... and of course the classic zucchini flower fritters or panisse chickpea fritters.

La Bonne Mère, from Marseille to Cassis.

This is the new hangout for pizza lovers in Cassis.

Organic flour and produce, natural sourdough, San Marzano tomatoes, 24-month matured parmesan, Fiore di latte Mozza (...), and a dazzling display of panache - all the ingredients are right here to make these legendary pizzas!

After Marseille, Jérémy Piazza and Mahéva Angelmann have set up shop in a quaint alleyway in Cassis village, where they lovingly treat families and visitors alike.

Le Reboul, a contemporary venue.

Now this is a boutique hotel that lives up to its name. Le Reboul combines the finest brands from the namesake ready-to-wear and accessories boutique with the décor of its 10 fully renovated rooms. Breakfast will be served on the terrace of the Lauca roasting house coffee shop. Opening in 2025...

L'Eau de Cassis, since 1851.

Artisan perfumer Fabrice Cicot perpetuates the savoir-faire of the house and each year, he introduces new scents to the range, evocative of the garrigue, the sea...

New in 2024: "L'art de la parfumerie" perfume creation workshops to learn how to define the top, heart and base notes, how to marry materials and fragrances to create an original perfume, and leave with your own eau de parfum. Fee-paying workshop, booking required.

*Stéphane Wimez,
2CV Mehari Club Cassis*

Stéphane Wimez,
Director General, 2CV Mehari Club Cassis.

"The Mehari Club was founded 40 years ago in Cassis.

The club was founded by the children of the Citroën dealer in the heart of the village, who understood before anyone else that the Mehari was something very special. They set about customising it. Today, we restore 2CVs and Mehari cars. But above all, we re-make spare parts for these cars, and in particular we make a lot of them locally.

Here in Cassis, we have workshops for upholstery and metalwork. We have also unveiled the first electric Méhari, the EDEN, with the Origine France garantie certification! We are committed to preserving our expertise, and as such we have been awarded the Living Heritage Enterprise label."

Guided tours of the Mehari Club workshops, April to September. The tour covers the various car workshops: upholstery production, chassis manufacturing line, metal workshops, reconstruction or electrification of old vehicles. To round off the visit, the tour takes you around the exhibition of historical models that have made the double-chevron marque (Citroën) so famous.

Admission: €15. Booking on www.ot-cassis.com and www.mehariclub.com

Jérôme Paret,
Winemaker, Domaine de la Ferme Blanche.

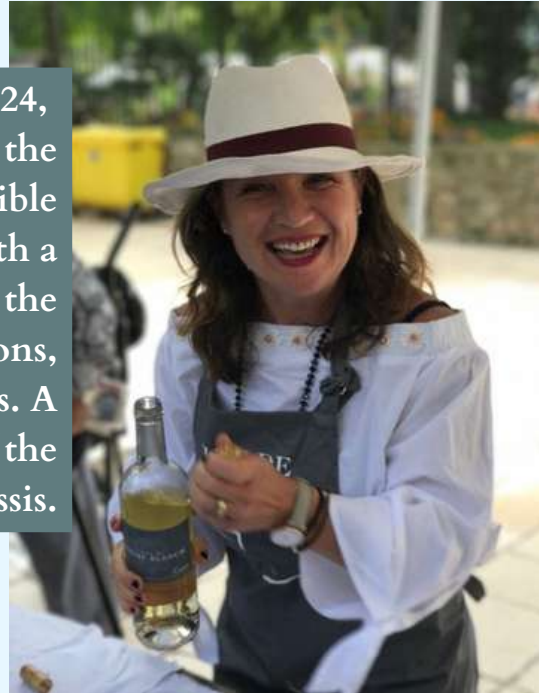

"Cassis is a unique treasure trove that gives our region its distinctive character. Situated on the outskirts of Marseille, Cassis is a cove looking out to sea, a rocky barrier with a unique colour. The living environment here is exceptional. The Ferme Blanche estate is a family business that was founded in 1714. We produce all 3 colours of wine and have been organic since 2016. In 2024, we completely redesigned the cellar to make it more accessible to visitors, with a terrace overlooking the vineyards, tasting sessions, seminars and social events. A taste of the easy-going lifestyle in Cassis."

Tasting sessions overlooking the vineyards. At La Ferme Blanche, visitors get to do more than just stop off at the cellar. They can enjoy the estate's new terrace overlooking the vineyards, and settle down in the lounge to discover the estate's wines, including organic whites, rosés and reds. Jérôme Paret, a passionate winemaker, is already concocting many other surprises, to be discovered in spring 2025. www.domainedelafirmeblanche.com

Gaëlle Manca,
Designer and Creator, Atelier du Corail.

“My husband Jonas is a coral fisherman,
one of seven French fishermen authorised to fish for coral. It’s his catch, between Cassis and Marseille, that I then get to work on. To give coral a modern twist, I create a range of delicate jewellery, with small coral beads mounted and presented to their full effect. From our shop, we can see the boats. Here in Cassis, I love spending time talking to customers, locals and visitors alike.
It’s a wonderful village to live in,
and I notice it every day.”

The workshop that transforms the treasures of the sea. Jonas, the fisherman, and his wife Gaëlle, a jewellery designer and creator, have opened this little gem of a shop together. L’Atelier du Corail is conceived as a connecting point between what happens below the water’s surface and what happens above it. After opening a shop in Marseille’s Panier district, a new shop has opened in Cassis
- impossible to miss, with a deep-sea
diver awaiting visitors at the entrance.

THE CASSIS VINEYARDS

The Appellation d'Origine Contrôlée Cassis which will celebrate its 90th anniversary in 2026, is the oldest of the Appellations in France.

But you have to go back nearly 2,600 years, when the Greek colonies settled here, to tell the long story of winemaking in Cassis. As the centuries have gone by, the winemakers have learnt from this special region, and adapted their grape varieties and practices to produce a unique wine today, showing the greatest respect for the soil.

There are eleven estates, situated in a veritable amphitheatre that opens up on to the sea, and rises up to an altitude of between 10 and 200m. Some are gently sloping, others climb up in restanques (terrace cultivation), all benefit from the breeze, 3,000 hours of annual sunshine and low rainfall, mainly in the spring and autumn. The Cassis winemakers have shown a real commitment, and have resisted the call of the property developers, and turned towards organic wines. With passion, they watch carefully each day over the quality of their wines, respectful of tradition while adopting new techniques.

Cassis, land of white wines

Pride of the AOC Cassis, the white wines represent the major part of the production and contribute greatly to its reputation. The white wines of Cassis have a light-yellow colour with bright reflections. They give off their sweet citrus and white flower scent, enhanced by iodine notes, the imprint of their terroir. After a few years in the cellar, the aromas become more complex around a generally honeyed note. Round and lively on the palate, leaving an intense and wonderfully balanced freshness, typical of the wines of Cassis.

The profound identity of our wines can be summed up in just a few words: the minerality provided by the limestone surrounding us, the subtle salinity that is regularly brought by the sea breezes.

Jonathan Sack, Clos Sainte Magdeleine

CASSIS, NATURE AT ITS BEST

From the ochre and golden Cap Canaille to the famous white limestone Calanques, the Cassis coastline is unique, and absolutely unmistakable. Nature is grandiose here, everywhere you look, the colours explode, the landscapes amaze, the vegetation reigns and the superlatives abound. Cap Canaille is the highest maritime cliff in Europe, the Calanques Park, the Number One nature discovery park, Cassis stone was used for the quays of Alexandria, the Route des Crêtes that goes from Cassis to La Ciotat is simply “stunning”. Cassis has outstanding nature and strives to protect it.

The Calanques National Park.

Established in 2012, this is the largest peri-urban park in Europe, covering land and sea. 90% of the park's 158,000-hectare footprint is maritime.

Seawards, the Calanques National Park offers an exceptional heritage. This protected wild paradise is home to several rare species such as the Herbe à Gouffé (Arenaria provincialis), the noble pen shell, the hatpin urchin; and further out to sea bottlenose dolphins and loggerhead turtles can be seen.

Landwards, the biodiversity is remarkable, more than a hundred protected plant and animal species have taken up residence there: Bonelli's eagles, yellow-legged gulls, and European free-tailed bats. The Calanques and Cap Canaille area are a great place for hiking, rock climbing, diving, sea-kayaking...

The Calanques National Park is a young park (the Vanoise, which was the very first park, dates back to 1963), and there is still a great deal to be done to adapt the site to the challenges of conservation and regulating traffic flows. New paths and new developments are being continually explored.

www.calanques-parcnational.fr

Esprit Parc label rolled out in Cassis.

All producers and service providers located in the National Parks who meet the accession requirements set by the National Parks can attain the Esprit Parc national brand. The brand is an additional guarantee of authenticity for visitors. The latest service provider to be awarded the prestigious label is the Hôtel Les Volets Rouges, a small, but highly dedicated 2-star establishment located in the hills, which has also been awarded the Green Key label.

The Cassis boatmen

are joining forces and are now offering longer tours to limit the carbon footprint of their journeys, by encouraging tourists to explore the area in greater depth and limiting the use of short, comparatively more energy-consuming journeys. Most of the boats are electric and/or hybrid so that they can switch off their internal combustion engines when approaching sensitive sites and cause minimal disturbance to wildlife. A stop-off point opposite the Anse de l'Arène invites visitors to take a dip in the water, in the right place at the right time. Special mention for the "evening swim aperitif" outings.

For groups or families, there is also the option of hiring a private boat with a skipper. The fleet boasts the "Esprit Parc National" label. Follow the flag! New from February 2025: online tour bookings.

Just one address, the Calanques Guide Bureau.

The Calanques Guide Bureau is staffed exclusively by high altitude mountain guides, mid-altitude mountain leaders and climbing instructors. It is the ultimate resource for discovering the area, combining safety and knowledge of the environment. Hiking, multi-pitch climbing, climbing for "all levels", via cordata... The bureau's guides will reveal their favourite spots and anecdotes.

www.guides-calanques.com

Educational family hikes, 2 landscapes, 2 options to choose from.

The "Petit Prince" trail is a one-hour stroll around the Presqu'île, bordering the "Calanque de Port Miou" cove. For the curious, there are information panels explaining the Calanques and their biodiversity.

New in 2024, the Mussuguet trail, an effortless one-hour stroll through the hills to reveal the secrets of Cassis stone.

Kayaking or paddle-boarding, up close with nature.

Drifting without a sound in a kayak or on a paddle-board through breathtaking scenery is undoubtedly one of the most exhilarating experiences to be enjoyed along the park's coastline. Early in the morning, at sunset, on your own or with a guide, there are many options to choose from. Two professionally trained partners take their privileged visitors down to the turquoise waters and up close to the limestone rocks.

CSLN www.cassis-kayak.com

and Lokayak www.lokayakcassis.com

The Route des Crêtes becomes a pedestrian trail.

New: since spring 2024, the Route des Crêtes, going from Cassis to La Ciotat, via the summit of the Canaille, is reserved for pedestrians and soft modes of transport on Sundays. For those wishing to follow the entire trail, e-bikes are available for hire on site. Good news for nature!

SUSTAINABLE DESTINATION

TARGET, IN FIGURES

In Cassis, we advocate sustainable tourism that respects the natural environment and people. Here, nature is fragile and there are many avenues to explore: protecting the sites, making visitors aware of the issues and spreading out the flow of visitors, so that everyone can have a wonderful experience and enjoy it all year round.

SEAWARDS.....

.....LANDWARDS

*1 At the end of 2024, Cassis was awarded the national prize for tourist attractiveness, for its commitment to sustainably improving its living environment, and its actions in favour of the ecological transition.

CASSIS AND ITS LEGENDARY PLACES

There are certain addresses that define a place, and become part of it.

Establishments past and present, they have become an integral part of Cassis.

They are run by people who are passionate about Cassis, its region, its land and its deep blue sea, and who want you to see and experience the very best of the destination.

A new lease of life for Le Liautaud.

Since 1870, the letters of its sign have been a prominent feature against the Cassis sky. A genuine landmark in the village, the establishment is reopening after extensive renovations, recapturing the luxury of the 1950s. This charming hotel draws its inspiration from the memories of this golden age to create a décor that is pure, mineral and elegant. The thirty or so rooms evoke the colours of Cassis, and the colour of its stone.

The experience begins at the Café Liautaud, with one of the most beautiful terraces in the village, overlooking the harbour and its endless ballet of visitors and boats. As you make your way upstairs a stop at the tea room is a must. This cosy setting is a delightful balcony overlooking the harbour, where you can share delicious home-made pastries, accompanied by teas and other drinks carefully selected by the house. Climb a little further and the new roof terrace unveils the most magnificent view of Cassis, the harbour, the open sea and the Château de Cassis. The panorama is truly exceptional. Privileged visitors for an evening and hotel guests have a front-row seat to marvel at the sunset while sipping a Simone, the establishment's signature cocktail, a tribute to the former owner.

www.hotelliautaudcassis.com

La Villa Madie***

Nestled in Anse du Corton, facing Cap Canaille, the restaurant La Villa Madie is an exceptional address. Chef Dimitri Droisneau, Michelin 3*, proposes his gastronomic cuisine there. Relying on local distribution circuits, he works with the best local farmers, to bring out the best of the seasonal produce, make great classics - ah! the lemon tart and his Norman shortbread - and create new recipes with talent, precision and passion...

Another atmosphere, the same view and bistro-type cooking are proposed at the Brasserie du Corton. This is a convivial place where you can stop off to taste the moment in complete simplicity, from Thursday to Sunday, midday and evening.

"Cassis is a source of inspiration for us, and over the years we've endeavoured to be more and more in touch with our region. We're going to cook pine cones with sweetbreads. We're going to work with fennel, rock samphire, prepare a raw-cut red mullet with sea urchins... everything here is just bursting with inspiration."

Dimitri Droisneau, chef and owner of Villa Madie***.

www.lavillamadie.com

The mythical "Roches Blanches"

This former mansion, built in 1887 close to the sea, takes its name from the limestone rocks that line the coast from Cassis to Marseille. It enjoys a unique location between the village and the Calanques and commands a breathtaking view of the cliffs of the Cap Canaille. It is only in the early 1920s that the property was converted into a hotel and opened to the public. Winston Churchill, and later Edith Piaf, stayed here. The rooms embody the Art Deco simplicity of the historic building with elegance and refinement.

Today, Les Roches Blanches is home to an exceptional setting and is a remarkable hotel and gastronomic experience. The establishment was awarded 2 Michelin Keys in 2024, as well as the Gault & Millau distinction for legendary hotels. The establishment has also been awarded with a Green Key for its commitment to CSR.

The restaurant menu features 4 experiences open to all. The "Belles Canailles" dining experience, orchestrated by chef Nicolas Sintès for a unique gastronomic treat, punctuated by the sweets of pastry chef Valentin Fabry. The "Rocco", for cheese lovers, especially in the autumn. The "Loup Bar", for lovers of "crudo" cuisine (in summer only). And finally, "La Pétanque", open on warm days, where you can enjoy the view from aperitif time to late evening, in the shade of the umbrella pines. Brunches with music or DJ sets, ask for the programme!

The Musée d'Arts et Traditions Populaires.

Just a few steps from the harbour, in the heart of the town, the museum is housed in a former presbytery dating from the early 17th century. The story of Cassis is told through collections of traditional everyday objects and paintings by the Provençal school.
